Ag literacy grows through book program

By Shelby Shank
TFB Field Editor

Texas teachers can grow agricultural literacy in the classroom with help from Texas Farm Bureau (TFB).

TFB is celebrating its third-annual Ag Literacy Week Book Program, held in conjunction with National Ag Week, on March 18-22, 2024.

Teachers can sign up to receive an accurate ag book to read during Ag Literacy Week, and it's free.

"This program provides teachers with the opportunity to enhance agricultural literacy among their students through an accurate ag book and accompanying activities that relate to the book," said Jordan Bartels, TFB associate director of Organization Division, Educational Outreach.
