daily by professional travel counselors to help with routings, provide maps and travel guides, and share information on points of interest, events, and road conditions.

"We have visitors from New Mexico, California, Colorado, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas, Florida, Louisiana, etc.," said Wichita Falls TIC supervisor Claire Spivey. "We have quite a few traveling to the Valley for the winter to escape the cold temperatures. Others are interested in heading to Big Bend to explore the rugged beauty of our state, and then of course you have quite a few interested in seeing the Texas Wildflowers in the Texas Hill Country."

Travel counselors say visitors and Texans aren't aware of all the treasures Texas has to offer that cover the entire state.
